Investment Objective and Strategy

The fundamental investment objective of First Trust AlphaDEX™ U.S. Utilities Sector Index ETF (the “First Trust ETF”) is to replicate, to the extent possible, the performance of the StrataQuant® Utilities Index (“Index”), net of expenses.

The investment strategy of the First Trust ETF is to invest in and hold the constituent securities of the Index in the same proportion as they are reflected in the Index or securities intended to replicate the performance of such Index. The Index results from applying the AlphaDEX™ methodology to the Russell 1000® Index, a market index representing the large and mid-capitalization segment of the U.S. equity universe, and then selecting the constituent securities for the Index from those qualifying stocks included in the Utilities Sector.

The Manager may use a sampling methodology in selecting investments for the First Trust ETF. As an alternative or in conjunction with investing in and holding constituent securities, the First Trust ETF may also invest in other securities to obtain exposure to the constituent securities of the applicable Index in a manner that is consistent with the investment objective and investment strategy of the First Trust ETF.

In this case, the First Trust ETF may also obtain exposure to the applicable Index by holding securities of a US-listed index ETF, First Trust Utilities AlphaDEX® Fund (NYSE Arca ticker: FXU), of an affiliate of the Manager, which replicates or substantially replicates the applicable Index.

Although the First Trust ETF has two classes of units called “Units” and “Hedged Units*”, the First Trust ETF currently offers only Units on the TSX with the symbol: FHU.

*The Hedged Units of the First Trust ETF were qualified for distribution by a prospectus dated June 7, 2019. As of the date of this management report of fund performance (“MRFP”), the First Trust ETF has not offered any Hedged Units to the public. No transactions or other activities have been undertaken by the First Trust ETF for the Hedged Units for the year ended December 31, 2019. As such, no financial highlights or management discussion for the Hedged Units are included in this MRFP.

Risk

The risks associated with an investment in the First Trust ETF remain as discussed in the First Trust ETF’s most recent prospectus. There have been no significant changes during the period that affected the overall level of risk associated with the First Trust ETF. The First Trust ETF provides exposure to the utilities sector of the U.S. equity market in a non-U.S. currency hedged manner.

Management Report of Fund Performance

For the year ended December 31, 2019

As of December 31, 2019, the utilities sector accounted for 5.35% of the weight of the Russell 1000® Index. The benchmark underperformed the Russell 1000® Index which returned 24.78%.

The portfolio held 34 equity securities as of December 31, 2019. The top ten equity holdings accounted for 49.64% of the portfolio. The AlphaDEX™ stock selection process is a rules-based process and can result in industry weightings that differ from that of the benchmark.

The First Trust ETF underperformed during the period due to industry allocation and stock selection. The First Trust ETF suffered from an underweight to the Water Utilities sub-industry which was the best performing sub-industry in the sector during the period. The fund also underperformed due to selection in the Telecommunications Utilities sub-industry, which includes two of the bottom contributors to return.

The top five stocks by contribution to return were AT&T Inc., PPL Corporation, Southern Company, Entergy Corporation, and MDU Resources Group Inc. The bottom five stocks by contribution to return were United States Cellular Corp, CenturyLink, Inc., Telephone and Data Systems, Inc., PG&E Corporation, and UGI Corporation.

Recent Developments

The Russell 1000® Index rebounded from steep losses in the fourth quarter of 2018 to post a 28.89% price return in 2019, its best year since 2013. The U.S dollar depreciated relative to the Canadian dollar in 2019, meaning the index gained 22.78% over the same period measured in Canadian dollars. 2019's gain capped a strong decade for U.S. stocks in which the Russell 1000® Index advanced 11.29% annualized before dividends, measured in U.S. dollars. This year's gains were propelled in part by three interest rate cuts by the U.S Federal Reserve in the second half of the year, a strong U.S. economy, and positive trade developments at the end of the year. The Fed cut rates to sustain the U.S. economic expansion and buffer it from a slowdown in global growth. Additionally, the Fed cited weak growth in certain areas of the U.S. economy, such as business investment, and low inflation for its accommodative moves. The U.S. economy remained strong during the period, despite weakness in manufacturing, with the unemployment rate reaching its lowest level since 1969 at 3.5%. Moreover, real GDP grew at least 2% annualized in each of the three quarters with data during the period. The year ended strong, with the Russell 1000® advancing in each of the final four months of the year. Positive trade developments contributed to the rally, as the U.S. and China agreed to a phase-one trade deal that is expected to be signed in 2020. The yield on the benchmark U.S. 10-year Treasury fell as low as 1.5% during the period but finished higher at 1.9%. After 2019's gains, the Russell 1000® Index finished the year trading at a P/E multiple of 22.3, compared to 16.9 at the end of 2018, with a dividend yield of 1.78%.

(2) The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the year.

(3) The First Trust ETF's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the First Trust ETF's portfolio advisor manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the First Trust ETF buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the year. The higher a First Trust ETF's portfolio turnover rate in a period/year, the greater the trading cost payable by the First Trust ETF in the year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between high turnover rate and the performance of a First Trust ETF.
