Investment Objective and Strategy

The fundamental investment objective of First Trust Morningstar Dividend Leaders ETF (CAD-Hedged) (the “First Trust ETF”) is to replicate, to the extent possible, the performance of an index of U.S. companies that have shown dividend consistency and dividend sustainability, initially the Morningstar® Dividend Leaders IndexSM.

The Morningstar® Dividend Leaders IndexSM consist of stocks listed on one of the three major exchanges, NYSE, NYSE Amex or Nasdaq, that have shown dividend consistency and dividend sustainability. Real Estate Investment Trusts (REITs) are not included.

Risk

The First Trust ETF provides exposure to its index by investing all or substantially all of its assets in an underlying U.S. index fund known as First Trust Morningstar Dividend Leaders Index Fund (the “Underlying Fund”), which is managed by the First Trust ETF's portfolio advisor.

The risks associated with an investment in the First Trust ETF is discussed in the First Trust ETF's most recent prospectus.

Results of Operations

General

The First Trust ETF's net asset value as of June 30, 2023 was $13,196,632 or $28.69 per unit. The First Trust ETF's net asset value as of December 31, 2022 was $11,750,158 or $30.92 per unit.

For the six-month period ended June 30, 2023, the First Trust ETF paid total cash distributions of $0.6417 per unit. In addition, the First Trust ETF declared cash distributions of $0.2500 per unit for record date of June 30, 2023 with payment date of July 10, 2023.

Investment Performance

For the six-month period ended June 30, 2023, the First Trust ETF returned -5.62% compared to the S&P 500® Index (CAD-Hedged) (the “benchmark”) return of 16.23%. Unlike the benchmark, the First Trust ETF's return is net of fees and expenses.

The First Trust ETF's only holding, the Underlying Fund, held 100 equity securities as of June 30, 2023. The top ten equity holdings for the Underlying Fund accounted for 56.99% of the portfolio within the Underlying Fund.

The Underlying Fund underperformed the benchmark during this period mostly due to an underweight allocation to Information Technology and an overweight allocation to Energy. Stock selection in Communication Services also hurt performance. An underweight allocation to Health Care helped to mitigate the underperformance.

The Underlying Fund's top five stocks by contribution to return were Cisco Systems, Inc., Blackstone Inc., United Parcel Service, Inc., New York Community Bancorp, Inc., and Altria Group, Inc. The bottom five stocks by contribution to return were AbbVie Inc., Pfizer Inc., Truist Financial Corporation, Devon Energy Corporation, and U.S. Bancorp.

The First Trust's ETF's exposure to the U.S. dollar contributed negatively to its absolute performance during the period as the U.S. dollar depreciated 2.22% against the Canadian dollar from December 31, 2022, to June 30, 2023.

Recent Developments

The S&P 500® Index rebounded in the first half of 2023, gaining 16.89%, including dividends. The U.S. dollar depreciated relative to the Canadian dollar, meaning the index gained 14.29% over the same period measured in Canadian dollars. However, the gains were concentrated in a few mega-cap companies from the Information Technology, Communication Services, and Consumer Discretionary sectors that rebounded from last year's losses as 2022's bearish sentiment subsided. These three sectors were the best-performing sectors in the first half of 2023. Consumer Discretionary stocks, in particular, benefitted from announcing better-than-expected earnings during the period. Energy, Utilities, and Health Care were the three worst-performing sectors. Utilities stocks as a group missed earnings expectations during the period. Inflation continued to taper off during the period, reaching its lowest level since early 2021 of 3% by June, largely driven by decreased energy prices. The US Federal Reserve paused its rate-hike campaign at its June meeting but signaled that further interest rate hikes would be needed to bring down inflation. With the process of bringing inflation down to the Fed's 2% target playing out more slowly than expected, the market mostly abandoned its expectation of rate cuts later this year, a significant development in the first half of 2023. Despite the Fed's aggressive interest rate hikes, the US economy so far has avoided a much-anticipated recession. The economy expanded in the first quarter, albeit slower than in 2022's fourth quarter. Overall, the U.S. 10-year Treasury yield decreased slightly from 3.87% at the start of the period to 3.84% at the end of the period, while shorter-term rates increased significantly. Overall, the S&P 500® Index finished the first half trading at a 19.9 P/E multiple with a 1.55% dividend yield, more expensive than 17.2 and 1.76%, respectively, at the end of 2022.

(1) Management expense ratio is based on total expenses (excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) for the stated period/year, including the First Trust ETF's proportionate share of the MER of the Underlying Fund in which the First Trust ETF has invested, and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period/year.

(2) The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period/year. This includes the First Trust ETF's proportionate share of the commissions of Underlying Fund in which the First Trust ETF has invested.

(3) The First Trust ETF's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the First Trust ETF's portfolio advisor manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the First Trust ETF buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the period/year. The higher a First Trust ETF's portfolio turnover rate in a period/year, the greater the trading cost payable by the First Trust ETF in the period/year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the period/year. There is not necessarily a relationship between high turnover rate and the performance of a First Trust ETF.
