Investment Objective and Strategy

The fundamental investment objective of First Trust Dorsey Wright U.S. Sector Rotation Index ETF (CAD-Hedged) (the “First Trust ETF”) is to replicate, to the extent possible, the performance of Dorsey Wright® U.S. Sector Focus Five Index, (the “Index”), net of expenses.

The investment strategy of the First Trust ETF is to invest in and hold the constituent securities of the Index in the same proportion as they are reflected in the Index or securities intended to replicate the performance of such Index. The First Trust ETF may also hold cash and cash equivalents or other money market instruments to fund current liabilities.

The Index seeks to construct an equal weighted basket of TSX-listed ETFs that provide exposure to a variety of industry sectors in the U.S. equity markets and may provide exposure to U.S. cash equivalents, represented by U.S. treasury-bills ranging from 30 to 91 days in duration included in the NASDAQ U.S. T-Bill Index (the “US Cash Allocation”).

The Manager may use a sampling methodology in selecting investments for the First Trust ETF. As an alternative or in conjunction with investing in and holding constituent securities, the First Trust ETF may also invest in other securities to obtain exposure to the constituent securities of the applicable Index in a manner that is consistent with the investment objective and investment strategy of the First Trust ETF.

Risk

The risks associated with an investment in the First Trust ETF remain as discussed in the First Trust ETF’s most recent prospectus. There have been no significant changes during the period that affected the overall level of risk associated with the First Trust ETF.

Results of Operations

General

The First Trust ETF’s net asset value as of June 30, 2020 was $2,946,184 or $19.64 per unit. The First Trust ETF’s net asset value as of December 31, 2019 was $2,504,273 or $25.04 per unit.

The First Trust ETF did not pay cash distributions for the six-month period ended June 30, 2020 nor declare cash distributions for record date of June 30, 2020.

Investment Performance

For the six-month period ended June 30, 2020, the First Trust ETF returned -21.57% compared to S&P 500 Index (CAD-Hedged) (the “Benchmark”) return of -3.69% and to the Index return of -20.05%. Unlike the Benchmark and the Index, the First Trust ETF’s return is net of fees and expenses.

The Index has trailed the Benchmark in all of the first six months this year. But when looking into the portfolio details, it was found that the Index’s monthly underperformances were caused by different reasons. For example, the Index early year sector picks, such as Industrials, Financial and Consumer Discretionary, all suffered by the quick sell-offs triggered by the surrounding news regarding the sudden outbreak of the COVID-19 pandemic.

The Index protection mechanism kicked in and allocated most of the positions to Cash since April, but just as surprising as the way the pandemic has impacted the world and the financial market, the V-shaped recovery path of the financial market is considered to be equally surprising by many investors. Holding Cash caused the Index to continue underperforming the Benchmark in April and May.

Recent Developments

The COVID-19 global pandemic is still a developing story. There are many vastly different predictions and opinions on when the pandemic will end and how long the world economy can fully recover. The embedded uncertainties among those discussions will inevitably and consistently be reflected in the financial markets and investors' portfolios in the remaining of the year or, in the worst case, for many years.

Although the Index year-to-date performance has underperformed the Benchmark, we think that it's indeed caused by a very rare event – the surprisingly V-shaped recovery of the stock market. With great uncertainties of the pandemic and the global economy, we think the market volatility should prevail and the Index's unique Relative Strength and Matrix Tally mechanism should still be able to provide investors with effective alpha-capture and risk mitigation in the long-term.

(1) Management expense ratio is based on total expenses (excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) for the stated period/year, including the First Trust ETF's proportionate share of the MER of any underlying fund in which the First Trust ETF has invested, and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period/year.

(2) The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period/year. This includes the First Trust ETF's proportionate share of the commissions of any underlying fund in which the First Trust ETF has invested.

(3) The First Trust ETF's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the First Trust ETF's portfolio advisor manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the First Trust ETF buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the period/year. The higher a First Trust ETF's portfolio turnover rate in a period/year, the greater the trading cost payable by the First Trust ETF in the period/year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the period/year. There is not necessarily a relationship between high turnover rate and the performance of a First Trust ETF.
