Investment Objective and Strategy

The fundamental investment objective of First Trust Cboe Vest U.S. Equity Buffer ETF - May (the “First Trust ETF”) is to provide unitholders with returns (before fees, expenses and taxes) that match the price return of the SPDR® S&P 500® ETF Trust (the “Underlying ETF”) up to a predetermined upside cap (before fees, expenses and taxes), while providing a buffer against the first 10% (before fees, expenses and taxes) of the decrease in market price of the Underlying ETF, over a period of approximately one year from the Monday following the third Friday of May of each year (each, a “Target Outcome Period”). At the end of a Target Outcome Period a new cap will be established for the next Target Outcome Period. The buffer stays constant at 10% (before fees, expenses, and taxes) for the next Target Outcome Period.

To achieve its investment objectives, the First Trust ETF will under normal market conditions invest substantially all of its assets in FLEXible EXchange® Options (“FLEX Options”) that reference the price return of the Underlying ETF. The investment objective of the Underlying ETF is to seek to provide investment results that, before expenses, correspond generally to the price and yield performance of the S&P 500® Index.

FLEX Options are customized equity and/or index option contracts that trade on an exchange but provide investors with the ability to customize key contract terms like exercise prices, styles and expiration dates.

The First Trust ETF will generally seek to hedge substantially all of its U.S. dollar currency exposure associated with its portfolio investments in respect of the hedged units back to the Canadian dollar.

Although the First Trust ETF has two classes of units called “Units”^{*} and “Hedged Units”, the First Trust ETF currently offers only Hedged Units on the TSX with the symbol: MAYB.F.

^{*}The Units of the First Trust ETF were qualified for distribution by a prospectus dated August 18, 2023. As of the date of this management report of fund performance (“MRFP”), the First Trust ETF has not offered any Units to the public. No transactions or other activities have been undertaken by the First Trust ETF for the Units for the year ended December 31, 2023. As such, no financial highlights or management discussion for the Units are included in this MRFP.

Risk

The risks associated with an investment in the First Trust ETF remain as discussed in the First Trust ETF’s most recent prospectus. There have been no significant changes during the reporting period that affected the overall level of risk associated with the First Trust ETF.

Results of Operations

General

The First Trust ETF’s net asset value as of December 31, 2023 was $11,810,886 or $39.37 per unit. The First Trust ETF’s net asset value as of December 31, 2022 was $27,035,836 or $33.79 per unit.

There were no cash distributions paid nor declared for the year ended December 31, 2023.

Investment Performance

For the year ended December 31, 2023, the First Trust ETF returned 16.50% compared to S&P 500® Price Return Index (CAD-Hedged) (the “benchmark”) total return of 23.02%. Unlike the benchmark, the First Trust ETF’s return is net of fees and expenses.

The First Trust ETF holds a combination of four FLEX option positions on the Underlying ETF, as well as a currency forward position. The currency forward is short the U.S. Dollar and long the Canadian Dollar and is intended to minimize the impact of changes in the Canadian/U.S. dollar exchange rate on the First Trust ETF’s performance.

First Trust Cboe Vest U.S. Equity Buffer ETF - May Management Report of Fund Performance For the year ended December 31, 2023

The combined performance of the option positions is dependent, in large part, on a) the performance of the Underlying ETF, b) the change in the amount of time remaining to the options expiration date (annual reset date), and c) changes in the market's view on future volatility of the Underlying ETF. We estimate that for the reporting year, the impact of holding the options on the First Trust ETF performance was approximately 17.93%.

The cost (or benefit) to the First Trust ETF of holding the currency forwards is dependent, in part, on the interest rate differences between the U.S. and Canada. We estimate that for the reporting year, the impact of holding the currency forwards on the First Trust ETF performance was approximately -0.47%.

Finally, we estimate that for the reporting year, the impact of expenses and taxes (HST) on the First Trust ETF performance was approximately -0.96%.

Recent Developments

The First Trust ETF performance is dependent on the price performance of Underlying ETF (the "SPY"), as well as the cost of the currency forward position, which is based on interest rate differentials between the U.S. and Canada.

During the year ended December 31, 2023, U.S. stock indices rallied nicely while bond markets' returns were mixed. The two biggest stories impacting the markets in 2023 were Artificial Intelligence and Inflation. The tech sector soared as firms positioned to benefit from artificial intelligence saw their stock prices rise dramatically. The Federal Reserve's ("The Fed") interest rate hikes began to have the desired effect of taming inflation as various measures suggested that inflation rates in the U.S. had fallen to around 3%. The U.S. labor market remained strong as unemployment rates remained near 50-year lows.

The S&P 500® Index returned 26.26%, while the Bloomberg U.S. Treasury 20+ Year Total Return Index returned just 2.66%. The Fed raised the Fed Funds Target Rate by 1.00% during the year. These interest hikes have pushed The Fed's Target Rate to a range of 5.25-5.50% as of year-end. In the U.S., economists are still mixed as to whether the U.S. economy will experience a recession during the upcoming twelve months. As of January 12, 2024, a Bloomberg News survey of economists showed a median forecast of U.S. GDP growth of 2.4% in 2023, and just 1.3% in 2024.

(1) Management expense ratio is based on total expenses (excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) for the stated period/year and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period/year.

(2) The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period/year.

(3) The First Trust ETF's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the First Trust ETF's portfolio advisor manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the First Trust ETF buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the period/year. The higher a First Trust ETF's portfolio turnover rate in a period/year, the greater the trading cost payable by the First Trust ETF in the period/year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the period/year. There is not necessarily a relationship between high turnover rate and the performance of a First Trust ETF.
