Investment Objective and Strategy

The fundamental investment objective of First Trust Indxx Innovative Transaction and Process ETF (the “First Trust ETF”) is to replicate, to the extent possible, the performance of an innovative transaction and process index. Currently, the First Trust ETF seeks to replicate, to the extent possible, the performance of the Indxx Blockchain Index (the “Index”), provided by Indxx, LLC, net of expenses.

The investment strategy of the First Trust ETF is to obtain exposure to the Index by holding shares of a U.S.-listed index ETF, the First Trust Indxx Innovative Transaction & Process ETF (the “Underlying Fund”), which replicates or substantially replicates the performance of the Index by directly holding the Constituent Securities of the Index. The First Trust ETF may also hold cash and cash equivalents or other money market instruments to fund current liabilities. The Index seeks to track the performance of exchange-listed common shares (or corresponding ADRs or GDRs) of companies in various industries with their primary listing in developed or emerging market countries that are actively using, investing in, developing or have products that are poised to benefit from blockchain technology and/or the potential for increased efficiency that it provides to various business processes. The Index seeks to include only companies that have devoted material resources to the use of blockchain technologies. However, the Index may contain securities of issuers whose primary business operations are not blockchain related or do not include blockchain related activities.

Risk

The risks associated with an investment in the First Trust ETF remain as discussed in the First Trust ETF’s most recent prospectus. There have been no significant changes during the reporting period that affected the overall level of risk associated with the First Trust ETF.

Results of Operations

General

The First Trust ETF’s net asset value as of June 30, 2024, was $1,942,829 or $29.89 per unit. The First Trust ETF’s net asset value as of December 31, 2023, was $2,045,335 or $27.27 per unit.

For the six-month period ended June 30, 2024, the First Trust ETF paid total cash distributions of $0.2410. In addition, the First Trust ETF declared cash distributions per unit of $0.2500 for record date of June 28, 2024, with payment date of July 8, 2024.

Investment Performance

For the six-month period ended June 30, 2024, the First Trust ETF returned 10.86% compared to the S&P 500® Index (the “benchmark”) total return of 19.64%. Unlike the benchmark, the First Trust ETF’s return is net of fees and expenses.

The First Trust ETF’s only holding, the Underlying Fund, held 101 equity securities as of June 28, 2024. The top ten equity holdings for the Underlying Fund accounted for 17.60% of the portfolio within the Underlying Fund.

The Underlying Fund underperformed the benchmark during the period primarily due to poor stock selection within the Information Technology sector. An underweight position in NVIDIA Corporation, for example, contributed notably to the underperformance. Stock selection within Financials mitigated the underperformance.

The Underlying Fund’s top five stocks by contribution to return were NVIDIA Corporation, Taiwan Semiconductor Manufacturing Company Limited, Micron Technology, Inc., China CITIC Bank Corporation Limited, and SAP SE. The Underlying Fund’s bottom five stocks by contribution to return were Intel Corporation, Baidu, Inc., The Boeing Company, Emirates Telecommunications Group Company PJSC, and Infineon Technologies AG.

The First Trust’s ETF’s exposure to the U.S. dollar contributed positively to its absolute performance during the period, as the U.S. dollar appreciated 3.54% against the Canadian dollar from December 31, 2023, to June 30, 2024.

Recent Developments

Since early 2018, the First Trust Indxx Innovative Transaction and Process ETF has given investors exposure to companies involved in the blockchain ecosystem, primarily in the Financials and Information Technology sectors. Performance for the First Trust ETF has lagged the broader market to begin the year as the narrow market continues to be driven by mega-cap technology stocks. The first half of 2024 was highlighted by the SEC's approval to launch ETFs tied to the spot price of Bitcoin, the flagship cryptocurrency utilizing blockchain technology. The approval led to a sharp spike in the prices of cryptocurrencies as Bitcoin gained almost 60% in the following two months. During the month of April, Bitcoin underwent a supply reduction known as "the halving" which reduced the rate at which new coins are created, lowering the available amount of new supply. Bitcoin sold off following the halving before rebounding to trade near its all-time high. Cryptocurrencies are typically treated as risky assets and tend to experience deep selloffs along with high-multiple growth stocks. However, there was no deep selloff as Bitcoin ended the first six months of 2024 at $61,904.96, a roughly 48% gain in value. Despite all the recent momentum, plenty of economic uncertainty remains looking ahead to the rest of 2024. In the event of a recession, it is likely that only the best-capitalized, most resilient business models that adopt essential blockchain applications will emerge on the other side.

Ratios and Supplemental Data

(1) Management expense ratio is based on total expenses (excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) for the stated period/year, including the First Trust ETF's proportionate share of the MER of the Underlying Fund in which the First Trust ETF has invested, and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period/year.

(2) The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period/year. This includes the First Trust ETF's proportionate share of the commissions of Underlying Fund in which the First Trust ETF has invested.

(3) The First Trust ETF's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the First Trust ETF's portfolio advisor manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the First Trust ETF buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the period/year. The higher a First Trust ETF's portfolio turnover rate in a period/year, the greater the trading cost payable by the First Trust ETF in the period/year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the period/year. There is not necessarily a relationship between high turnover rate and the performance of a First Trust ETF.
